

Running the Blade Optimisation programs

The m-file `blade_opt_setup.m` is configured to produce the data structure called "data" that was used for the design example in Section 7.4. To produce data, type in the command window

```
>> data=blade_opt_setup
```

and then to run the optimisation

```
>> blade_deopt(data)
```